Edventure More Summer Camps

by Cam Mar 19, 2014 kids · Summer Camp

Last year was the first year our oldest daughter went to summer camp. I wanted her to have a new experience making friends as she transitioned into Kindergarten. We found a camp that was a perfect fit, and opened the door for the next year.

Living in the Bay Area, we have so many options for summer camps. One option is Edventure More, they host both Camp Edmo and Camp EdTech. Camp Edmo was on our list of “must-do” camp experiences this year. This camp is geared for K-4th and has a focus on arts, science, animation, nature and recreation activities. We picked “Incredible Edibles” and our daughter is thrilled at the idea of making her own ice cream.

For older kids entering 5th-8th Camp EdTech is the perfect Technology Camp. Kids will get to use hardware and software to control lights and buzzers. They'll get to edit films, learn how to use digital photography, and they are taught by professionals from the Children's Creativity Museum. I'm thinking I could even learn a thing or two with this program.

There are several locations in San Francisco, Marin, Contra Costa, Alameda, Santa Clara and San Mateo counties. Camp runs M-F 9AM-3PM, the weeks of June 9 – August 22, Dates vary by location. Extended day & lunch options are available as well.

Visit campedmo.org or campedtech.org or call 415.282.MORE (6673) for more details.
